

America Recycles Day 2004

Indiana Recycled Art Exhibition

Call for Entries

Show Your Art in the America Recycles Day 2004 Recycled Art Exhibition!

An exhibition of artwork created from recycled materials by Indiana artists will be exhibited at the Wheeler Arts Community in Indianapolis from November 15 through December 31, 2004. A jury will select works for exhibition from among the entries submitted by the September 30, 2004 deadline. Cash prizes will be awarded and artists may choose to sell their work from the exhibition. A 20% commission on all works sold will go to support future "American Recycles Day" Art projects. A reception will be held November 19th, 2004. All sales inquiries will be referred to the artist.

Eligibility: Artists who live in Indiana are invited to submit one (1) work of art created from materials that would otherwise be disposed of in the trash. Artwork can be in any medium and must be ready to hang on a wall and should be no larger than 36" H x 36" W. Free-standing sculptural works are also acceptable and must have a footprint no larger than 36 x 36". Each work must be accompanied by the form below, and each artist must indicate from what materials the work was created as listed below in "Submission."

Submission: Each entry form must be accompanied by an artist bio, three slides or photos or digital (.jpg) images. One slide/photo/digital image must be of the entire artwork; the other two images should show details of the work and materials used. Slides must be suitable for a 35mm carousel, numbered, and a dot should be placed in the top right corner of the slide mount indicating the front and top of the view. Each submission must include a typed list of the works numbered to correspond with the slides. This list must include the work title, dates completed, dimensions, medium, description of recycled materials content, and other pertinent technical information. Postmark deadline for submission: September 30, 2004. Artists must provide an SASE if they want documentation and slides, etc., returned.

Delivery of Accepted Artwork: Artists whose work is juried into the exhibition will be notified in writing by October 23, 2004. Specific delivery arrangements must be confirmed with Lisa or Rhonda at 800-988-7901 by November 1. Artists must deliver their artwork to Wheeler Arts Community, 1035 E. Sanders St., Indianapolis, IN by November 10. Artists must also retrieve their work at the end of the show. Artwork not picked up by January 7, 2005 becomes the property of the Indiana Recycling Coalition (IRC) and will be sold at the IRC's annual fund-raising auction in May 2005.

Promotion: Artists submitting work must agree to allow the Indiana Recycled Art Exhibition sponsors to photograph and/or reproduce artwork for Indiana Recycling Day 2004 promotional purposes.

Prizes: (Courtesy of Capital City Metals)

The exhibition jury will also award prizes for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place. A viewer's choice award will be presented based upon the selection made by persons attending the November 19th opening reception.

1 st Place	$200
2 nd Place	$150
3 rd Place	$100
Viewer's Choice (selected Nov. 19, 2004)	$ 50

This exhibition is sponsored by a coalition, which includes: Capital City Metals, City of Indianapolis Department of Public Works, Earth Day Indiana, Wheeler Arts Community, Southeast Neighborhood Development (SEND), Indiana Arts Commission, Indiana Recycling Coalition, and Indiana Departments of Environmental Management, Correction, Commerce, and Administration (Greening the Government Program). The America Recycles Day co-sponsors and their employees assume no liability of the safety of the exhibits. All entries are tendered and accepted upon that condition.

Many Ways to Recycle. Once used, old things are often collected for recycling, then processed and made into a vast array of new products which consumers then buy and hopefully recycle again after use. America Recycles Day reminds us not only to collect used items for recycling, but also to look for and to "Buy Recycled Today" to keep recycling working!

Selected artwork for the Indiana Recycled Arts Exhibition will be on display at the Wheeler Arts Community Building, located at 1035 Sanders Street in the historic Fountain Square Art District, just south-east of downtown Indianapolis. The Wheeler Arts Building has its own unique story as it was a circa 1900 Carburetor Factory which was recycled into working Artist Studios!

The exhibit will be up from November 15 through December 31, 2004 in the low-security public spaces within the building. An opening reception will be held on the evening of Friday, November 19 in conjunction with the "Tonic Gallery" art event which benefits the Second Helpings food rescue program. Attendees are also encouraged to wear recycled-content fashions to further the theme!

America Recycles Day reminds us:
For our children's future, Buy Recycled Today!
